Gladiator Soccer Initiative

The Gladiator Camps is designed to offer International standard football training to school children and their coaches while creating opportunities for talented football players to combine football with academics abroad.

To achieve this, we have partnered with FCV International Football Academy, the UK's first private football academy, providing academic football courses for aspiring footballers aged 15 and up.

The courses offer range from one week to three years and combine specialist football training with first-class education.

The quality of the academy has seen former students succeeding at professional football clubs within the UK, Europe, USA or at a significantly higher level in their home country with many going on to represent their national teams.
